Week of Prayer for Christian Unity

Beloved friends in Christ,

Since 1908, the week between The Confession of St. Peter (January 18th) and the Conversion of St. Paul (January 25th) has been the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity. Each year, prayer around the world is coordinated by the World Council of Churches (The WCC) and Christians of many denominations join together. In all my years, I cannot think of a time when prayer for Christian Unity is more needed than now.

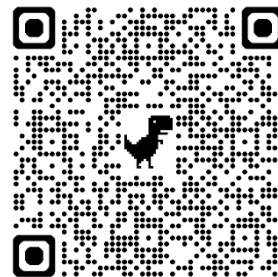

Praying together for our unity will be: the Assyrian Church of the East, the Oriental Orthodox Churches, the Eastern Orthodox Churches, the Old Catholic Church, the Moravian Church, the Lutheran Churches, the Anglican Communion, the Mennonite Churches, the Methodist Churches and the Reformed Churches, as well as the Baptist Churches, Pentecostal Churches and the Roman Catholic Church,

To assist you in your prayers in the coming week, the WCC has assembled a meditation guide, which is easily accessed by clicking the following link on your computer: https://mcusercontent.com/c268f6576ad86f97d94dcd2c2/files/e1d4d39c-72c1-d229-2f5f-d5c693bae8d6/2026_Week_of_Prayer.pdf

Or you can take a picture with your cell phone of this QR code.

This year's focus is Ephesians 4:4: "There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to the one hope of your calling." I hope that you will join with Christians around the world in these meditations and prayers for our unity.

On January 25th, we will celebrate our Patronal feast day: The Conversion of St. Paul and conclude the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity.

Faithfully,
Ed

"How do we live compassionately in a time of violence and despair? What can we do with our private disappointments and the anger we feel over an unjust world? In his most personal book yet, Richard Rohr turns to the writings of the Jewish prophets, showing how some of the lesser-read books of the Bible offer us a path forward today." Review from Goodreads . Please be in touch with Jane (704-968-2902 or stpaulseducator@gmail.com) for additional information. We look forward to seeing you!
